

Southern Floods Response 2025

Situation Report #1 | 29 November 2025

Situation Update

Since 17 November 2025, the strong northeast monsoon over the Gulf of Thailand and the Andaman Sea has caused continuous heavy rainfall across several southern provinces of Thailand.

Currently, flooding has affected nine provinces: Surat Thani, Nakhon Si Thammarat, Trang, Phatthalung, Satun, Songkhla, Pattani, Yala, and Narathiwat. Water remains inundated in communities and agricultural areas, disrupting daily life—particularly for vulnerable groups such as children and low-income families.

World Vision Foundation of Thailand's Response

1. Emergency Response in Target Areas

World Vision Foundation of Thailand has launched the "Southern Floods Response 2025 Project" and opened a fundraising campaign to deliver aid to affected areas. We are working closely with government agencies and local partners to coordinate relief efforts.

2. Distribution of Essential Supplies

World Vision Foundation of Thailand team has provided urgent assistance to flood-affected communities in Songkhla Province by delivering relief items and food such as rice, dry goods, milk, and hygiene products. Support was given to 10 evacuation centres and 2 churches, benefiting more than 15,200 people.

3. Provision of Educational and Recreational Activities in Temporary Shelters

Recreational activities were organised alongside disaster preparedness education to support the psychosocial well-being of children. Further needs assessments will be conducted to expand assistance.

Priority Interventions

World Vision Thailand is currently conducting an assessment to identify gaps and needs in service delivery for response and recovery phases. Key priorities include:

Relief Phase Priorities

Set up field kitchens and providing basic necessities such as food, cooking ingredients, and essential items, at temporary shelters.

Early Recovery Priorities

Distribute school supplies and essential household items

Conduct Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR) training to strengthen community preparedness

Repair and rebuild damaged homes and schools
